Patrice Rémillard
CRAPO President

Having taken office in December 2015, I have held the position of President of the Comité régional d'action politique de l'Outaouais (CRAPO) for a few months only.

So far, the executive has met only once. At that meeting, we established our top priorities for the year: recruitment and lobbying of Outaouais Liberal MPs.

Much like other committees in the region, the CRAPO is presently dealing with a lack of participation. We should not become indifferent just because we got rid of the Conservatives. Executive members have therefore decided to focus on recruitment for 2016. We will also participate in the PSAC MP lobbying campaign in our respective ridings.

When attending a breakfast in February, I had the opportunity to meet eight of the twelve Liberal MPs from the Ottawa area. We discussed various issues, including the importance of the Canadian public service and the climate in which it operates.

In solidarity,
